La Reata Will Be Ready For Students Today; Get Your Copy In the Office

No Charge to Be Made For Annual This Year

La Reata, fourth annual publication of the Salinas Junior College, will be available for students today. Although these books were ready yesterday, the holiday prevented their being distributed.

This year the books will be carried out in maroon and black color scheme, with gold division pages adding their completion of the junior college color scheme. Under the able editorship of Don Coover, and the business managing of Barbara Tracy and Clayton Lamb, the year book will be a remembrance well worth keeping. In spite of the many difficulties to overcome in the way of covering last year's debts, collecting advertising, and getting cooperation from the students themselves, the book will come out in time for all you autograph hunters to collect a few signatures from the graduating students.

Students who have registered in the junior college for two semesters this year, and who have paid an $8 registration fee, will get their copies of the La Reata absolutely free from Mr. Peavy in the office. If students have paid only a $3 or $5 fee, signifying registration for one semester only, they will be required to pay $1 extra for the book, making the total cost only $2. This is less expensive than was last year's, and the book promises to be every bit as good. If you still have a deposit to pay on the book, give it to Mr. Peavy as soon as possible, so that you can get your books.

PROM PROVES FINANCIAL AND SOCIAL SUCCESS

Of course everyone knows how successful the Junior College was in a social way, but did you realize that it was almost as successful in the financial field? Of course, it could not possibly bring in enough money to outweigh its social success, but at least there was a sum of $12.18 net profit. The income was derived solely from the sale of tickets, amounting to $159.50. Expenses amounted to $146.68. That covered the lovely decorations, the Bali Room, leis, boutonnieres, programs, bids and a perfectly swell time.

The committee in charge should be commended for their highly successful, self-supporting venture. Greatest credit goes to Bob Henderson, Jack Kympton, John Storm and John Mitchell.

ANNOUNCEMENTS HERE

Graduation announcements have been received by the bookstore. Present your receipt and the balance of your money and get them now.

CATALOG SHOWS BIG INCREASE OF JAYSEE COURSES

The most revolutionary change made in this year's catalogue is the change in course numbers to coincide with those offered at the University of California. Whenever a course number is starred, it means that the course is the same in number and content as the U. C. courses. Any course under the number 50 is a university course, but not numbered the same as the California subjects. Those numbered 50 or over are terminal courses for the junior college.

One error was made in printing the catalogue. On page 41, under the music department, Intermediate Harmony is numbered 54-5B, indicating it is only a terminal course. This course is really a university subject and should be numbered 5A-5B.

Additional courses for the junior college this year are listed as follows: Division of Arts and Letters: the art department has added 2A-2B, a course in form and organization, 61 elementary construction, and 69A-69B, landscape composition. Listed in the catalogue for the first time, although it was taught this year, is Art 66, stage design. English, under the same department, has added 10A-10B, Introduction to the Humanities; English 50, Elementary Composition, 47A-47B Shakespeare, is also a catalogue addition that was offered this year. Geography 5A-5B and Philosophy 5A-5B are also new courses this year. The history department has added 9A-9B, The Pacific and the Far East in Modern Times; 21, History of California, and 51-52, 2A-2B, Elements of Interpretation, 43A-43B, Speaking Chorus, and 44A-44B, Advanced Interpretation, have been added to the public speaking department for next year. Sociology is an entirely new course, and Bacteriology has been added to the catalogue this year, along with Nature Study, a course to be given in alternate years.

Materials of Engineering Construction 8, and Strength of Materials 41-42 are additional courses being offered in the engineering department for the junior college. Mathematics boasts the addition of 50, Plane Geometry, a course open to those students who had no geometry in high school. Physiology is the last new course offered in the letters and arts department.

Under the semi-professions and vocations, agriculture has undergone the greatest change. Next year both Mr. Grace and Mr. Drew will be Jaysee instructors as well as Mr. Pressley. These instructors will teach their courses on alternate years, thereby allowing students to get 36 units in agriculture alone. The new courses include 4 Dairy Production, 7 Domestic Livestock, 7 Livestock Judging, 11 Poultry Production, 12 Agronomy, 56

Commission's Tentative '38 Budget Plan

Basing their figures on the budget used this year, members of the commission are now working on a practical budget for 1938-39. The comparison between budgets may be seen in the following figures: Athletics, $1935.45 this year, with plans being made for a $513.55 increase, making $2449.90; Activities, $160, an increase of $15, making a total of $175; Publications, $600, planning an increase of $263, making a total of $863; Miscellaneous, $165, an increase of $235, making a total of $400.

Under these budgets, the total expenditures for this year were $4,472.50. The increase for next year should total approximately $1,264.50, making a total of $5,737 for next year's expenditures. The estimated deficit for this year is $1,600, making a carry-over of $800 to be paid off next year. The total budget expenditures would then total $6537.

Income for the student body was shown in the following fields: Student body fees in 1937-38, $2,438.50, plan for next year were $1,171, next year's income year, $3,200; Athletics this year to be $1,790; Publications, $1000, next year $900; Subject A fees, $50, next year $50; Music and speech, this year $275, plan for $300.

Dairy Production, 59 Farm Management, and 60 Farm Management. The commerce department has the addition of 53A-53B, Accounting, in addition to the regular course now numbered 6A-6B; 55A-55B, Advanced Accounting; 57 Business Organizations and Principles; 59A-59B, Business Economics, transferred from the economics department and now given as a commercial course. Stenography 70 offers a fourth semester of this work; Advanced Office Machines 73; Filing 74; Business Mathematics, 75; Penmanship 77, and Spelling 78, are also additions in the commerce department.

The home economics department has added a course in Intermediate Cloth 3A-3B, which includes designing costumes and balancing wardrobes. Family Relations 24, has been added to the catalogue, although it has been taught here the past semester. Journalism now boasts a division by itself with a special second year course in advanced journalism 51A-51B, the newest addition.

Mechanical Arts is an entirely new department. It includes 51 Machine Shop Practice, 52 Machine Shop Practice, advanced, 53 Auto Mechanics, 54 Auto Mechanics, advanced, 55 Welding, and 56 Welding, advanced.

SPEAKER

NETTIE WEICHERING

Miss Nettie Weichering, shown above, will be commencement speaker for the exercises to be held on June 1.

HONOR SOCIETY HOLDS LUNCHEON

After being presented with the official charter at the assembly last Friday, the members and guests of Alpha Gamma Sigma attended the luncheon at the Comino Hotel. Dr. Charlie Wilson, faculty adviser of the San Mateo J. C. honor society, attended with the club officers, Miss Jean Rohner, president; Mr. Hosagawa, vice-president; and Miss Mary Lue Redman, secretary-treasurer. Mr. R. J. Werner and Miss Jean McKay represented the faculty of the Salinas Jaysee.

Conversation during the luncheon centered about club aims and problems. Several new and valuable ideas were obtained from the visitors as they explained the operating systems used by their club. Hopes for the future of our local chapter were raised when Mr. Werner discussed possible plans for a private club room next year. The school intends to co-operate in every way to aid the honor society.

Present Charter

During the assembly in the morning, the official charter for Chapter Nu was given to the president, Lyle Stageberg, by Miss Jean Rohner. The pins, which were scheduled to be presented, failed to arrive.

The club plans as one of its activities to keep a complete record of all scholarships available to junior college students. The members have found that many excellent opportunities are missed because of lack of information regarding these scholarships.

Attending the luncheon were Dr. Charles Wilson, Miss Jean Rohner, Miss May Lue Redman, Mr. Hosagawa from San Mateo, Mr. R. J. Werner, Miss Jean McKay, Lyle Stageberg, Betty Draper, Jean Perkins, Ardeth Bare, Mac Goodman, Bill Law, Stanley Ireland, Beth Falkenberg, Harold Stigers, Clyde Greenhill, and Dick Carlisle.

The largest class yet to graduate from the Salinas Junior College will present its commencement next Wednesday, June 1, at 8 o'clock in the Salinas Union High School Auditorium. This class, numbering 74, is the second one to graduate since the college has moved to Homestead Avenue. It is also the first to graduate under the guidance of President Werner.

According to Miss Jean McKay and Mr. Herbert Langdon, the simple but impressive program will be as follows:

Processional, "Victoria." Triumphal March, by Teixeria, by the Junior College Orchestra. Invocation, given by Father Joseph Losada, followed by "Prelude No. 1, by Rossi, played by the violin quartette. An address by Harry Nolan, "The Junior College," will be followed by the A Capella Choir singing "As Pants the Heart," by Thiman, "It's Me, Oh Lord" by Noble Cain, and "Nocturne" by Noble Cain, with Miss Gertrude Lowe as director. Nettie Weichering, commencement speaker, will give an address, "The Pageant of the Pacific — the West." The string quintette will play "Serenade" by Drigo. Lyle Stageberg, the other commencement speaker, will speak on "The Pageant of the Pacific — the East."

Conferring of the special awards will next take place. There will be the American Legion Honorary Award, the American Legion Auxiliary Award, the Science Award, and the Scholarship Awards presented at this time. The highlight of the evening will be the presentation of the junior college graduates by Richard Werner, president of the college, and the conferring of Degree of Associate of Arts, by W. B. Murray, member of the board of trustees. The Rev. M. L. Kemper will say the benediction, and the recessional, the "March of the Peers" by Sullivan, will end the impressive ceremony.

MR. AMYX PLANS TRIP TO OREGON

Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Amyx and family are planning to make a trip to Portland, Ore., during the summer vacation. En route, and while in Oregon, Mr. Amyx will spend his time painting and sketching the scenes that take his eye.

As soon as summer school session opens, Mr. Amyx will attend Mills College with the famed painter and artist, Leon Kroll, as instructor. Mr. Kroll stands among the three or four leading artists of the field.

Beth Sanders, Gordon Stewart, and Dick Carlisle. Clyde Greenhill was in charge of the morning program and Betty Draper the luncheon.

STAND AGAINST THAT WALL --- NOW, WHAT ARE YOU?

Well, now how do you feel with finals practically behind you and graduation staring you in the face? Did old "Lady Luck" hand you a rotten deal, or did you lay out your own cards? Did you find last minute cramming any help, or were you one of the few who has diligently kept his work up during the whole semester?

Your answer to these questions will be your answer on how you will face the world you are now walking into. Of course, a good many of you still have school to look forward to, but for those of you who don't, how does the prospect facing you make you feel? Does it leave you with a kind of hollow feeling in the region of your stomach; are you at last impressed with your insignificance, or are you still slapping the world on the back and leaving it all up to good old luck?

If luck is your ace in the sleeve, then God pity you, for the years that stare you in the face will soon take off their rosy glasses and leave a gaunt and hollow appearing future in their place---for there is no lady luck!

On the other hand, if you are among the few who have learned already that your place in the world will be left to you, because you are insignificant enough in the scheme of things that you will be overlooked and never missed, then you have a chance to show the world your best and make it like it. Since you first started to school, 14 short years ago, you have been told, "Get a goal and keep it." The words may be worn out by now; perhaps you are tired of hearing them, but at least leave a place for them in one corner of your mind, and drag them out when the going gets tough. Just remember, that whatever you are, you and no one else, is responsible. It all depends, and has always depended, on YOU alone. No matter how many have pointed out the way and advised, the final decisions, the final actions, and the final successes are yours.

HAVE YOU READ . . . ?

Have you read any of your text books this year? At the present time, with the scramble to get rid of all the old text books, have any of you stopped to think that you might like to keep some of the text books that look so uninteresting right now? For example, have you thought how many of your English books may, in the future, be very valuable, and that most history and science books can be put to good use for reference if you are going on to some university or college?

Did you ever read any of the plays that the dramatic classes have given this year? You really should, because they are very interesting plays. If you saw "Red Carnations" on Friday, you will know what is meant.

After all the finals, it is recommended that the students in J. C. forget all but the very lightest fiction for the next three months. Among the new books of this type that would keep all of us amused is "Away From It All" by C. Belfingre. This is the story written by an English journalist who went around the world to forget the evils of a middle class English existence. However, he found that the rest of the world is also suffering from an economic depression. He sailed around the world, finally ending up in the United States gold city of Hollywood, where he decided that England was the best place for him to live in.

If the title of this book doesn't appeal to you, maybe these do: "Calculus In a Brief Form," "First Year German," "Historical Evolution of Hispanic America," or "Elementary Psychology For Beginners." Of course, these are only suggestions which will not be followed by any but Alpha Gamma Sigma members.

J. C. TEACHERS GO TO EUROPE

An interview with the ex-kaiser of Germany, three fairs, England, and Scotland — these are a few of the stop-offs in the coming European itinerary of Miss Hall and Miss Lowe. They plan to sail from Montreal on the S. S. Dutchess of Richmond, a Canadian Pacific Line steamer. After England, Scotland, and the Empire Fair at Glasgow, they will separate, Miss Lowe going to France and Switzerland, Miss Hall to the Scandinavian countries and the National Industrial Exhibit at Oslo. Together again in the Netherlands and in Germany, the two ladies hope to hear some music, and then cross the border to Belgium before they disagree with Hitler.

One of the high-lights of the trip will be the interview with the ex-kaiser, about whom Miss Hall will be writing a book in the near future.

The journey goes on from there to Paris, with emphasis on the new fall fashions and the Paris Exposition. Before the fall term, they will sail home on a French liner, completing a full-summer with extensive travel down through the southern part of the country and New Orleans. Until then, to them, bon voyage!

DEPARTMENT OF ART HAS NEW COURSES

Art 2A-2B, Form, will be a requirement for all beginning art students next year, according to Mr. L. K. Amyx. Form includes fundamentals in drawing, mass, line and other of the art principles. It will be a pre-requisite to composition, and is an accredited university subject.

Art Appreciation has now been turned into a course by itself, with a regular text book course. Art History 1A-1B, has been added, thereby taking that part of the department originally included in the art appreciation course. Both of these subjects are university-credit courses for art major or minor.

Elementary Construction 61, will be somewhat like the former crafts course. In addition to leather tooling and bookbinding, however, the course will include pottery, silk screening on textile and silk screen on glass for such things as trays.

Art 71, Drawing, coincides with freehand drawing offered in high school. Students who have never had any art work will be required to take this course before continuing further.

A new landscape course is being offered for the more advanced students. This course will be limited to a very few students, and those will be only the ones who show a great deal of interest in their work and who show signs of progress. At present Ichiro Hayashi, Don Smith, and Morrison Fetzer have been taking such a course under the title of field trips. The regular courses of Design and Figure drawing, now year-courses, have been cut down to one semester each in order to allow time for all the other courses included in the art curricula.

Plans are now being made for model stands for both the figure drawing and the composition, or still life classes. In addition, the art class hopes to possess a great many new easels, constructed on a more workable plan, and sturdier.

One grave error has been discovered in the catalogue. Under the art department heading, there is listed Composition 51A-51B. There are two paragraphs under this heading. The second paragraph should be headed Art 53, Lettering. This course is required of all those who wish to take up commercial art of any kind. It is therefore necessary to notify those who are interested in taking art to check this change in their catalogues.

DOCTOR HALL TO INSTRUCT FIVE COURSES

Dr. Luella Hall will teach five courses in history next year. History of Western Civilization, History of the Americas, The Pacific and the Far East in Modern Times, History of California, and Contemporary History, will be the courses. All of these will be taught from the standpoint of their practical benefit to the students. The course of "The Pacific and the Far East in Modern Times" will consist of a general survey of the cultural evolution of China, Japan, Korea, Australia, Indo-China, and adjacent regions. Special emphasis will be placed on the contemporary conflict between Oriental nationalism, western imperialism and communism.

The course in California History (which will be a two-unit course), will be a survey of its Amerindian culture and including the Spanish, Mexican, and American periods to the present time. A special emphasis is placed upon the national and international significance of the state's relationships with the Pacific area.

Dr. Hall is well qualified to teach this type of history. She has just finished her thesis for her doctor's degree from Stanford, which she has entitled "The United States and Moraccan Problems."

The social season of the year wound itself up in one big blaze of glory at the Del Monte prom the other night. S. J. C. has every right to be proud of itself and of the prom committee members for swinging a thing like that. And every person who attended the prom will have another pleasant memory to add to his associations of junior college. Everyone had a grand time, and the committee deserves a big hand for making it such a grand success. Not only a social success, it was a financial success as well — to make the surprise complete.

Another windup for the year was the student body meeting last Friday. This seemed to be a real get-together, with the presentation of the awards giving the students another thing to strive for during the next school year.

Finals always end the school year with a nice taste in your mouth (don't tell anybody, but we were trying to be sarcastic). But we hope you all passed, in spite of the gloomy looks that accompanied each person from the exam room. Ask anybody these days how they did in the finals, and you'll probably get a dirty look. That's what friends are for.

SID CARTER wants his name in the Battery THIS BIG! Hope he likes it. Glad to do it, Sid.

Mary Hitchings, a graduate of Salinas Junior College, has announced her engagement at a recent party. Best of luck, Mary.

The end of school is such a sad time. You never know when you are going to see any of the kids again or under what circumstances, and you yourself don't know if you'll be back at school next year or not. So everyone goes around gathering snaps and addresses, and hoping that maybe you'll be able to recapture some of that old feeling again after you have graduated and gone out into the big wide world. Wonder what the place will look like next year with all of the new additions that have been promised? And what will it feel like to have a lawn in front of the place. It will probably be a big relief, as that in the back is getting worn just a bit thin in spots from carrying a double load.

I hope that one improvement will be some oil for the Battery room typewriters. They squeak like the back stairs at 4 o'clock in the morning. And, according to some people, that's plenty loud! They could also stand some new ribbons.

This is one time that this column is going to be absolutely dirtless, even if the editor has to get down and dig it out herself. This also marks the end of a life of looking through keyholes and overhearing bits of gossip. Our hearts have always been in the right place, even if the typewriter keys haven't been, and we hope that none of you have taken offense at anything that has been said or written in the Keyhole. We also hope that some of the couples mentioned in this column will continue the friendships begun in these halls when they are out of school. Life is just beginning for us who graduate this year, or next, and the friendships formed in the early part of life have much to do with our futures.

So here's wishing you all the best vacation you've ever had, and may you continue to prosper throughout the days of your life.

DEAN SAUBLE SAYS CLASS IS EXPERIMENT

Mr. Earle F. Sauble, dean of men, is making plans for attending the University of California summer school. While there, he intends to study counseling and junior college guidance work. He hopes that this course will aid in orientation as well as in his capacity of dean.

Because orientation was taught for the first time here this year, it was more or less an experiment, for the instructor as well as the student, according to Mr. Sauble. Therefore, on the basis of what he has learned this year, he plans to make several changes in the course. It will be a survey type of course, he said, covering the fields of natural and social sciences in order to give the students a better ideal of the fields in which they may plan their courses of study.

COURSES ADDED FOR ENGINEERS

Two new engineering courses, prerequisites for practically all engineering work, are to be added in Mr. Langdon's department next semester. These will be taught in the new room for the engineering courses up on the second floor. Strength of Materials, the more technical of the two, will require a previous knowledge of differential calculus and physics 1A and 1B. Here the stress, strain, torque, and shear will be discussed and demonstrated with the aid of a hydraulic press and other new apparatus being purchased especially for the class.

The second course, Materials of Engineering Construction, will be a one-semester course dealing with the types, adaptability, and practical usage of structural materials.

New Room
One of the big features of next year's classes will be the new large room lighted from overhead with skylights. It will be located on the second story. There will be a special blueprinting room with black and white proof printing and developing equipment. New supply rooms and instructors' office will also be included.

New equipment, which will include another transit, there are two now, one a complete plane table only for plane table surveying. Many other small items will also be included.

HOCKEY ADDED TO P. E. COURSE

The new semester in physical education will literally start "with a bang," according to Miss Freida Hutchinson, instructor. Hockey, that limb-rending, head-smashing, stick-breaking game, will be played in the Salinas Junior College, made possible by the bond issue and the W. P. A. loans. Hockey will also be the first W. A. A. sport.

Through the same means, the tennis courts will now be on Jaysee property, and more classes will be offered. Golf will be given as a regular course with instructions being given by Bob Wilson, pro at the Salinas golf course. Practice will all be done

LEMOS BOASTS OF NEW EQUIPMENT

Mr. J. B. Lemos' science department will boast of three new courses and a great deal of new equipment next year. Astronomy is to be advanced from a two-unit to a three-unit subject, having an extra hour for lab work and examinations. Besides the reflecting telescope to be mounted in the observatory on the second floor, many new maps and charts will be purchased to make the astronomy course more complete. The same text will be used as during this year.

A special three-unit course in physics will be given instead of the present non-lab course. This will be called 3A and 3B. It is required of all pre-medical students. An extra one-unit lab course will be run along with this to allow for those who will need to take lab work. The total will be four units.

The regular engineering physics, under the head of 1A, 1B, 1C and 1D will be given as usual. The only addition will be the great amount of new equipment.

Geology will not be given until the year 1939-40. It will alternate with astronomy.

WE WONDER --

If Don and Lois really like each other?

If Joyce and Olsen are really serious or is it merely a "gag"?

If Betty Draper and Stan Ireland will continue having that "far-away" look?

If Gordon Bain returns the love that Eleanor Beaumont professes for him?

If Marian Sherer will get wise to herself?

If Helen Randol will make up her mind?

If Beth Falkenberg still has a "pash" for Los Angeles?

If Janet Dennis will make the "grade"?

If George still goes for Betty Brown?

If Jane Vincent looks forward to J. C. next year?

If Betty Holman looks forward to Bill Burton's return? Poor Merlin.

If Roy Voris still goes steady? (Or did he ever?)

If Doris Barnard still goes with that steady in P. G.?

If that famous girls' clubhouse will be here by next year?

GRADS GO . . .

JACK KYMPTON, president, and we hope he is the future president, of the student body, is still awaiting a letter. We may run headlines when it comes.

AMANTE URIAS UDARBE is at the golf course.

In addition, the regular courses of riding, modern dancing, archery, and Individual P. E. will be continued.

Miss Hutchinson is adding several different classes to her hygiene course. With only one class, the girls find it difficult to arrange their courses to get it in. Hygiene is a required course, therefore it was found necessary to make it more available.

Her third class, Shakespeare, will be continued with comedies and historical plays opening the first semester classes.

FACULTY VACATIONS

Mr. Herbert Langdon's summer of entertainment and recreation will be spent at the Heald Engineering College in San Francisco. He will study the full three months to brush up on some of the finer details of engineering. He allows us to quote him as saying that he may take in a movie if he has the time.

Plans are being made for several golf and chess sessions with Mr. Sauble and Mr. Amyx, who will be at the University of California during the summer session.

"Most of my time will be spent in Salinas this summer," said Mr. John B. Lemos when asked about his summer vacation. "I'm going to take it easy and do just as I please." When quizzed further, he did mention that he will attend the international convention of the Kiwanis Club to be held in San Francisco this month. Other possible plans for the summer's recreation may include Lake Tahoe or Yosemite.

Mrs. Baxter will spend the summer vacationing in the south. She doesn't like to be catalogued, and all we could get out of her was the southern part of California.

Miss Epperson, popular home management teacher, is going back to school. Only instead of S. J. C., it will be Stanford summer school.

uncertain as to what he is going to do or where he will be next year, but he would like to go on to U. C. L. A.

RICHARD J. PERKINS wants an army career. During the summer he will be stationed with the national Guard camp in Salt Lake City with the 143rd Field Artillery.

LEO ARTHUR NUNES is hoping for a Civil Service job in some line of stenography or a secretarial job.

HIGH-LIGHTS IN 1937-1938 J. C. SPORTS

ATHLETES

SAMPLE TASTE OF LA REATA'S SPORT SECTION

One of the features of the Salinas J. C. sports this year was the Panther boxing team under the direction of Mr. G. D. Peavy. This team, starting as a boxing class during the second semester, brought out four boys who brought laurels to the Jaysee in the Junior College tournament at San Jose State. These boys, Hughes Andrus, Abe Fuji, Norman Rial and Amerigo Vella, each won their bout, but Fuji lost on a re-match. Boxers are pictured at the far left.

The Panther track squad, part of which is shown at the lower left, also put Salinas Jaysee on the map, even though they took only a third in the conference meet at Santa Rosa. Salinas Jaysee really made itself known when two tracksters, Harold Vorheis and Jack Kympton, both broke the conference record in the discus.

The equestrian class, pictured at the near left, under the direction of Mrs. Murrin and Mr. Rowley, proved to be a highlight in girls' sports.

Rose Panziera, a member of this class, also made the Jaysee known when she was chosen as the Salinas representative for the Gilroy Gymkhana. This was only the beginning for Rose, because a few days later she was chosen as Queen of the Gymkhana.

JAYSEE BLOCK "S"

Although not all the men who won blocks this year appear in the picture, it at least gives an idea of what the La Reata offers.

this year in the way of photography. Members of the Block
